

70 WORD SYNOPSIS

"Mamut" (Mammoth) is an original creation by Markeliñe for a family audience about the human evolutionary process.

In an imaginary Palaeolithic, hominids take refuge among the bones of a mammoth. And playing with them, they discover fiction, language, symbols, tenderness, art, the power of fire, time, each other...

A visual approach that speaks of creativity and, above all, of the value of cooperation.

120 WORD SYNOPSIS

"Mamut" (Mammoth) is an original creation by Markeliñe about the human evolutionary process.

In an imaginary Palaeolithic, hominids take refuge from the looming threat of wolves among the bones of a mammoth. In their struggle for survival, they decide to cooperate despite their differences. Suddenly, a first gesture of farce, theatre or fiction emerges, and the bones become a tool for creativity and games where the imagination leads to discoveries, such as language, art, tenderness, symbols, the awareness of time or the possibilities of fire...

"Mamut" tells us, without words, about creativity, about how we got here and, above all, about the value of cooperation.
